RZ Group has been acquired by Outsorce UK, one of the UK's largest and fastest-growing staffing agencies

Key facts:

- The new, larger company continues to specialise in placing temporary and permanent technology, change and engineering talent into a wide variety of sectors.
- As a combined group, we have grown to become one of the top 10 of IT staffing companies in the UK.
- As part of its ambitious growth plans, Outsorce spotted a natural cultural and market alignment between the two businesses, and an opportunity for Outsorce UK to gain a Scottish presence.
- Outsorce UK was founded in 1991 by Paul Jameson. The company specialises in placing temporary and permanent talent with employers operating in technology, change and engineering. This acquisition will see the company move to operate out of seven locations nationwide and increase headcount to well over 100.
- RZ Group (previously known as Recruitment Zone) has been working with clients with all recruitment needs and specialise in filling vacancies within the finance, technology, oil and gas and engineering sectors. Since founding the company in 1998, directors Andy Barton, David Bedford and Lisa Kwiecinska have grown RZ Group to a turnover of £27m.

Nick Dettmar, CEO of Outsorce UK stated, "We are delighted to announce our new acquisition and look forward to exploiting the mutual benefits of bringing the two organisations together. We share a lot of common traits with both organisations being contract-heavy providers of technology and change professionals in similar sectors. We, at Outsorce, recently launched an extended suite of products and services that we are looking forward to sharing with our new customer base."

Paul Jezzard, CFO of Outsorce UK commented, "This acquisition represents a significant step forward for our new enlarged group and will take us into the top 10 of IT staffing companies in the UK. Our combined turnover shall exceed £100m. This gives us the platform to continue to invest to realise our ambitious growth plans."
